Made in Babelsberg!

■ Location and Film History

Babelsberg Studios is rooted in a success story, which has produced film history for 100 years. Located in close proximity to Germany's capital, Berlin, Babelsberg quickly drew the attention of international movie productions. Babelsberg has witnessed the birth of many stars and the groundbreaking achievements of famed directors. Fritz Lang made movie history with his production of "Metropolis" and Marlene Dietrich celebrated worldwide fame from her role in "The Blue Angel". Film icons like Greta Garbo, Heinz Rühmann, Lillian Harvey and Hans Albers all followed with great success, as they were deeply inspired by the charm and flair of Babelsberg.

Today, Babelsberg is synonymous for media innovation excellence and creativity and represents a modern Media City consisting of more than 100 companies and over 2,500 employees. Babelsberg continues to attract film stars from all over the world. Some of the latest productions include films such as Roman Polanski's „The Pianist“ (2002) and „Ghost Writer“ (2009), „The Reader“ with Oscar® Award winning Kate Winslet (2008). Tom Cruise's produced the World War II epic „Valkyrie“ (2008) and Quentin Tarantino shot his film „Inglorious Basterds“ (2008) starring Brad Pitt in the leading role. Recent productions, just to name a few, include Roland Emmerich's „Anonymous“ (2010), „The three Musketeers 3D“ staged by action specialist Paul W. S. Anderson (both 2010) as well as „Cloud Atlas“ with Tom Hanks and Halle Berry.

Throughout the last 20 years Filmpark Babelsberg has become a major component of Babelsberg's success story. Being focused on the fascinating tradition and promising future of film and TV, the Filmpark attracts several 100,000 visitors every year.

■ Events Incentives Action – Made in Babelsberg!

The establishment of Filmpark Babelsberg and its event sector has served the entertainment sector of the Studios and has occupied an integral part of the Media City's success story.

The department of Special Events & Catering is committed to follow the tradition of the Media City Babelsberg. Since 1993 we have hosted a wide range of engaging events and incentives from two up to 95,000 people. It is our goal to develop individualized „storyboards“ for your events. A professional creative team will work with you on bringing your visions to life.

The Metropolis Hall® is a brand new multifunctional studio suitable for different event formats and television productions.

Fully integrated on site of Filmpark Babelsberg it is the largest convention area of its kind in the surrounding region.

The event hall itself is inspired by offering a new dimension of national events hosting to our clients: From different congress arrangements, film premieres, award ceremonies, television- and show productions, Metropolis Hall® lives up to the expectation of Babelsberg as a grand location of growing historic importance to the media industry.

Enter the magic of Metropolis Hall®: Greeted by the lion of the Bank of London, an original movie prop of Jackie Chan's "Around the World in 80 Days", visitors are guided through an illuminated, naturally lit spacious glass foyer – a 1.000 m² area, ideal setting for exhibitions and presentations, meeting points, or a bar and break area.

This foyer also connects directly to Filmpark Babelsberg's extensive live action stunt show arena, the Volcano, which can seat up to 2,500 guests.

Additional space is available for artist and VIP dressing rooms, offices, catering areas and staff rooms. This set up allows for close proximity to in-house events as well as maximized logistical capacities.

Metropolis Hall's® event-wing, distributed over 5 floors, offers multipurpose rooms ranging in size between 50 m² and 120 m².
